Dear Sir or Madam,

I write further to the Court's Order of 4 December 2025 and my Master Submission for Reconsideration filed on 9 December 2025, which addressed the Court's stated concerns and set out why an oral, public permission hearing is necessary and why determination on the papers would be unsafe.

In the absence of any further direction from the Court, I proceed on the basis that the necessity of an oral permission hearing has now been fully pleaded and explained, and I await the Court's engagement with the Reconsideration Submission.

I write also to notify the Court of material developments relevant to the safeguarding and administrative context of the claim. The criminal evidence referred to in the Judicial Review has now been transmitted and placed in the public domain, and the solicitor of last record has confirmed that they are investigating the handling and chain-of-custody records relating to that material. No substantive information has yet been provided as to the whereabouts or safeguarding of the evidence or devices.

These developments reinforce that the issues before the Court are live, administrative, and continuing, and that further paper-only handling would carry ongoing safeguarding risk.

For completeness, and in light of the participation evidence already before the Court, the Claimant respectfully notes that any oral hearing would require appropriate participation measures, including sufficient advance receipt of the Defendants' skeleton argument (no later than seven days prior to the hearing) to enable meaningful and effective engagement.

For the avoidance of doubt, the Claimant respectfully maintains that an oral and public permission hearing is required and should be listed outside the Christmas parliamentary recess (18 December 2025 to 5 January 2026), in the interests of transparency and effective public scrutiny, and when Parliament is in session.

I would be grateful for confirmation of the Court's proposed next steps.

Yours faithfully,

Nadia Zahmoul
Claimant (Litigant in Person)
